Dynabook Rolls Out New Satellite Pro Laptop Series, Selects SYNEX Corporation as U.S. Distributor

IRVINE, Calif., – Jan. 11, 2021 – Dynabook Americas, Inc., a leading provider of professional-grade laptops, today introduced the Satellite Pro™ laptop series. The company also announced a strategic relationship with SYNEX Corporation (NYSE: SNX), a leading provider of distribution, systems design and integration services for the technology industry, to handle the United States distribution of its new Satellite Pro laptops and expand its reach into the small and medium business sectors. At launch, the Satellite Pro series will consist of three new models, including the 14-inch Satellite Pro C40, 15.6-inch Satellite Pro C50 and 15.6-inch Satellite Pro L50 with prices starting at $499.99 (MSRP).

Dynabook's Satellite Pro laptop series feature modern designs, a unique commitment to quality and all-round computing capabilities that deliver exceptional value ready for the most demanding tasks required by both professionals and students. Dynabook will offer multiple configurations of the three new Satellite Pro laptops featuring a mix of 10th Gen Intel® Core™ processors and Windows 10 choices, including four Satellite Pro C50 and three Satellite Pro C40 options with prices starting at $499.99 (MSRP). The Satellite Pro L50 configuration will feature a 10th Gen Intel® Core™ processor, Windows 10 Pro, NVIDIA® graphics and priced at $899.99 (MSRP).

"Introducing the Satellite Pro brand and pairing it with our award-winning Portégé® and Tecra® laptops enhances Dynabook's already robust product portfolio and creates new opportunities in the U.S. market," said Philip Osako, vice president, marketing and engineering, Dynabook Americas, Inc. "We are pleased to offer our customers a wider selection of options as well as the unique combination of performance and budget-friendly prices within the Satellite Pro product family."

"We are pleased to announce this strategic alliance with SYNEX Corporation as our distribution partner for the launch of Satellite Pro," said Wendy Sue Linsky, senior director, U.S. Channel Sales, Dynabook Americas, Inc. "We believe the introduction of the new Satellite Pro laptops brings a wider offering to our channel partners, hitting key price points and providing great value."

Resellers can take advantage of SYNEX Corporation's expertise in the device mobility market as well as its dedicated sales and enablement teams, helpdesk services and solution monitoring, bundled offerings, and flexible subscription and consumption-based plans with monthly pricing options. The return of the recognizable Satellite Pro brand meets the needs of many SYNEX customers, regardless of size or market position.

According to Sandi Stambaugh, Vice President, Product Management for SYNEX Corporation, "We are pleased to work with Dynabook to launch their new Satellite Pro brand in the IT channel. The agreement brings a leading option to our SMB, VAR, DMR and retail customers. By combining Dynabook's exciting new offering with our team's channel expertise and dedicated support, our mutual customers are well-positioned for success in this high-growth market segment."

Satellite Pro C40

The Satellite Pro C40 is powered by a 10th Gen Intel® Core™ processor (10nm), high-speed DDR4 memory and an ultra-reliable solid-state drive to provide increased productivity and performance for demanding workloads while delivering uncompromising battery life.
